Vessel Walkthrough

Owners and guests can board the vessel from the port and starboard walk around decks or the swim platform. There is a large swim platform for a day of swimming and snorkeling. A large sunpad covers the aft deck hydraulic engine hatch. A teak deck accents the roomy cockpit with wrap around bench seating. A fold out table provides room for dining and entertaining. A wet bar across encloses a sink and storage area. Moving forward the stylish helm area has dual drop down bolster seats. A beautifully layed out helm features new burlwood accents and Keikafter controls. The walk around deck provides access to the bow. There is a new Lewmar windlass for anchoring at your favorite destination. Accessing the cabin through the sliding door in the cockpit you will encounter a superbly layed out cabin. All cabinets are hi-gloss teak, the sole is done in a light berber carpet and the overhead is a light cream vinyl. Immediately to port is the dinette area with sink, Kenyon stove, Waeco refrigerator, and many cabinets. Sunseeker design plates, glasses, and flatware are expertly enclosed in special compartments. A central u-shaped leather settee makes for a great conversation area. A teak pedistal table which is stowed away provides space for dining or converts to a second berth area. All the way forward is the sleeping area for two. Other cabin features include dome lights, reading lights, Marine Air reverse cycle airconditioning and an audio visual entertainment system with TV/DVD/CD and stereo. An enclosed head starboard side aft has a sink, pull out shower head, manual head, 2 cabinets, mirror and porthole.

Additional Salesperson's Remarks

This sophisticated express rarely is seen on the market. A real head turner at the docks with its sleek bullet like look with the dependability of Yanmar diesels. Owned and maintained by a seasoned Sunseeker owner, "also owns a much larger Sunseeker", and maintained like the larger yacht. Low engine hours, modern electronics, bow thruster, and Panda generator make this vessel a desirable package.
